Response to Amendment

Applicant's drawing corrections are acceptable to overcome the prior objections. Applicant's amendments and/or arguments concerning the prior rejections under 35 USC 112 2nd paragraph are deemed persuasive. Most of applicant's arguments regarding the previous rejection under 35 USC 112 1st paragraph are also deemed persuasive. However, regarding the issue of the maximum deflection, since it was explained that the peak to peak or the baseline to peak could be the aforementioned maximum deflection. The distinction between the amplitude and the downstroke is now raised since they appear to be the same by this definition.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 16, 17, 36 and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Art Unit: 3762

The specification fails to clear explain what the maximum deflection is. Specifically, the negative downstroke and the distinction between it and the amplitude. Clarification is needed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 23, 29 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In Claim 29 and dependent claim 30 "said filtering with a matched filter having a template" on line 2 should be presented as an apparatus limitation rather than a method limitation. Presently the claim is indefinite. In claim 23 the particulars of claims 24 are recited therein making the claim indefinite.

Claims 1-15, 18-22, 24-28, 31-35, 38-40 are allowable.

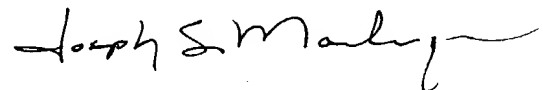

All claims appear to avoid the prior art.
